

ROD200™

BOX POUCH FILL AND SEAL MACHINE

▶ BOX-POUCH MAGAZINE & TRANSFER

Stacks of pouches are placed in the infeed magazines. Adjustable guides ensure precise loading position. Pouch is transferred from the magazine to the Pouch Track.

▶ OPENING & FILLING STATION

Vacuum suction cups pre-open the seal line and the body of the pouch. The pouch is now primed for filling at the filling station. Product is then placed in the pouch.

▶ SEALING STATION

The pouches are positively sealed with a heat sealer, discharged, and ready for checkweigh, case packaging, and palletizing.

The ROO-200 box-pouch fill & seal machine can pack almost anything into a box-pouch. With high efficiencies, a compact footprint, a wide range of bag sizes, and decreased downtime, the ROO-200 will surely satisfy your box-pouch packaging needs!
